

How WestCASA
can help

- Counselling to help you deal with your feelings about what has happened and any concerns or problems you may have because of the assault.
- Information about common difficulties people experience after an assault and how to manage these.
- Information about your legal options.
- Assistance with the legal process such as liaising with police, preparing to be a witness and organising support for you in court.
- Referrals to doctors who are sensitive to the needs of someone who has been sexually assaulted.
- Counsellors who will listen, believe and support you.
